

WebJunction is the learning place for libraries

At WebJunction.org, you will find the learning you need to keep your skills relevant and your library moving forward. We're here even in the toughest of economic times: WebJunction resources are free to use, all are welcome, and we're always open.

Come to WebJunction.org's safe, supportive online environment to advance your core technology, business, leadership and library skills—and get in touch with new and emerging trends in tools and services.

Reading resources

WebJunction gathers helpful articles, handouts, worksheets, videos and presentations from library practitioners and topic experts to share with you. Use these resources to gain confidence with technology tools, innovate services to your patrons, and develop your personal leadership skills. We cover the full range of library practice, to help you in your career. Get started at webjunction.org/explore-topics.

Live presentations

Learn alongside your colleagues from around the world by attending WebJunction's free online presentations offered every month. These webinars cover timely topics on trends and changes impacting library services and patron needs, and are presented by first-class experts and library staff just like you. All presentations are recorded for future viewing or sharing with your colleagues. Register for upcoming events at webjunction.org/calendar.

About WebJunction

Since our launch in 2003, WebJunction has helped thousands of librarians and library staff build the job skills they need to meet the challenges of today's libraries. WebJunction is a not-for-profit program supported in part by OCLC, grants from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and the Institute of Museum and Library Services, partners in library service agencies, and the library community.
