WebJunction is the learning place for libraries

At WebJunction.org, you will find the learning you need to keep your skills relevant and your library moving forward. We're here even in the toughest of economic times: WebJunction resources are free to use, all are welcome, and we're always open.

Come to WebJunction.org to advance your core technology, business, leadership and library skills—and get in touch with new and emerging trends in tools and services.

Free Webinars

Join library staff from around the world at our free online programs each month. These webinars cover timely topics and the core issues impacting services and patron needs, and are presented by first-class experts and practitioners. All presentations are recorded for future viewing or sharing with your colleagues.
Find upcoming and recent programs at webjunction.org/calendar.

Reading resources

WebJunction gathers helpful articles, handouts, worksheets, videos and presentations from library practitioners and topic experts like you. Use these resources to gain confidence with technology tools, innovate services to your patrons, and develop your personal leadership skills. We cover the full range of library practice, to help you in your career.
Get started at webjunction.org/explore-topics.

Stay current

Subscribe to Crossroads, our monthly e-newsletter, to get connected to the latest content and learning opportunities offered on WebJunction. See past issues and subscribe at webjunction.org/crossroads.

About WebJunction

Since our launch in 2003, WebJunction has helped thousands of library staff build the job skills we need to power relevant and vibrant libraries. WebJunction is a not-for-profit program supported by OCLC, grants from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and the Institute of Museum and Library Services, partners in library service agencies, and the library community.
