

Some of the ways Iowa libraries serve jobseekers

- Provide career stations
- Provide access to Learning Express and Tutor.com
- Develop partnerships for programming
- Keep current materials about job seeking in collections
- Provide laptop labs for programming
- Sell low-cost USB drives and rewritable CDs
- Host job fair for local businesses

Some of the ways Iowa libraries serve jobseekers

- Create displays specific to job seeking
- Provide links to local job sources
- Contact local service groups about providing scholarships
- Place Iowa Workforce Development job seekers guides with current periodicals
- Place Iowa Workforce Development posters on bulletin boards
- Offer Microsoft Word classes that focus on resumes

Some of the ways Iowa libraries serve jobseekers

- Waive fines for customers who are struggling financially
- Provide free movies for families
- Partner with schools to use labs for programming and classes
- Put job sections of newspapers next to computers
- Provide faxing and scanning services
- Laminate job seeking tip sheets and keep next to computers

Some of the ways Iowa libraries serve jobseekers

- Seek grant money for new technology
- Offer basic computer skills classes
- Provide a conversation hour for bi-lingual customers
- Offer meeting space for job interviews
- Get connected with employees through Iowa Workforce Development
- Make kits filled with job seeking materials
- Offer personal support