

Public Libraries and Access to Justice

Instructions for Group Activity

This session provides an opportunity for all participants to practice their training/leadership skills in promoting and facilitating the use and participation of public libraries in access to justice.

We ask that on Monday evening each participant will select a small group of the slides in the various PowerPoints of the Conference and prepare how they would teach them to a group back in their own state.

The planned presentation should take about 5 minutes. You should decide for yourself who you see your audience will be, although we encourage you to stretch. This is an opportunity to try something new, and get feedback in a “safe” environment. Be someone different! We will organize groups so that you are not with members of your own team.

There are 75 minutes for this activity.

We are going to have groups of 5-6, so that about 12-15 minutes will be “your” time. Please prepare a 6 to 8 minute presentation, and expect the same amount of time for feedback from the group leader and the rest of the group.

Enjoy!

Copyright National Center for State Courts, 2010.

Developed by the Self-Represented Litigation Network of the National Center for State Courts, with Funding from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to the National Center for State Courts, and in cooperation with the Legal Services Corporation. Points of view and opinions stated in this document do not necessarily represent the official position or policies of the National Center for State Courts, or of the Legal Services Corporation, or of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, or of any co-sponsor or of any participant in, or funder of, the Self Represented Litigation Network.